Author Of 'Whitewash'

Batt Sur 11/4/66

Kennedy Autopsy | ata Access Urgec

By A. W. Geiselman, Jr.

ren Commission said today that serious X-rays and photographs of the late Presisination should be permitted to scholars on the topic of the Kennedy assas-The author of a book criticizing the Warstudy encies to the National Archives is meandent's autopsy. ingless leased the X-rays, negatives and transparsaid that, otherwise, the announcement luesday that the Kennedy family had re-Harold Weisberg, author of "Whitewash," give the impression it has nothing to hide He described the announcement as an effort by a Government under pressure "to while it is hiding things."

X-rays and photographs to official Govern-ment investigative bodies except with specific approval of the Kennedy family. Mr. Weisberg's comments followed the cision to limit for five years access to the Archives in Washington to protest the de-He said he has gone to the National In D.C. To Protest quest. Kennedy family at the Government's rethat the autopsy data was being released to the custody of the Government by the announcement by the Justice Department

Government spokesman admitted that the recent publication of books raising questions about the commission's findings "had something to do" with the request. Even after the five-year period, the spokesman said, access to the X-rays and photographs will be considerably limited and that critics of the commission findings probably would not qualify as persons to be period. granted such access. He said, however, that it would be pos-sible for these critics to designate qualified pathologists to study the data after this number of recent books and magazine articles questioning the commission's find-ing that Lee Harvey Oswald was solely re-sponsible for President Kennedy's death. Mr. Weisberg, 53, a former newspaper Mr. Weisberg's publication is among a number of recent books and magazine Designate Pathologists > man and United States Senate investigator, ery county. He said he began his book imlives on a farm in Hyattstown in Montgom-said today. "The Government from the very pictures and has not used them. ditions surrounding them," Mr. graphs is meaningless because of the conbeginning had access to the evidence in mediately after the assassination. "The transfer of the X-rays and photo-Weisberg the

Access Needed, He Says

nothing about the case." not beginning five years hence with access those infinitely familiar with the evidence, X-rays and photographs of the autopsy by "What is needed now is access to uninformed pathologists who know the

DY-

in their proper context and "be quite val-uable." The X-rays and photographs in them-selves can add little to the knowledge of the of the assassination such data can be placed himself and others with intricate knowledge he said, in the hands of persons such as at the commission hearings, he said. But case except to confirm testimony of doctors

President, fore the commission as to the entrance point of the first of two bullets hitting the testimony" of pathologists appearing be-A look at the X-rays and photographs, Mr. Weisberg said, might clear up what he described as "the unresolved conflict of

Point Of Entrance

He pointed out that a chart apparently made at the time of autopsy showed the first bullet hit the President in the back. Yet, he noted, doctors also presented the record.

commission with an artist's' drawing show-which the gun shooting the bullet was fired. The lower the entrance wound in the President's body the less likely was the possibility that the same bullet also hit ing that the bullet entered the neck. The point of entrance is important, Mr. said. pared with what some experts believe was the exit hole just at the knot of the President's tie, indicate the height from Weisberg said, because it could, when com-Texas Gov. John B. Connally, Mr. Weisberg pared with what some experts believe

He pointed out that the slug which hit the Governor apparently was moving at a downward angle, hitting him in the back, exiting through the chest, passing through his wrist and striking his thigh.

Major Questions

the other authors. fired at the presidential car has been major question raised by Mr. Weisberg and The matter of how many bullets were also hit Governor Connally. This would con-form with the commission's finding that Oswald alone did the shooting from the sixth floor of the Texas Book Depository. If the two officials were hit by separate persuaded by the evidence that the same bullet which first hit President Kennedy The commission stated that it had been used by Oswald he could not have snapped assassing because with the type of rife off two shots in so short a span, Mr. Weis-berg and others have claimed. Mr. Weisberg said that so far as he autopsy were never formally presented to the commission and are not part of its Mr. Weisberg said that so far as he knows the X-rays and photographs of the