

Bud- In writing you in haste as soon as I got the government's motion I think I forgot a very obvious thing. L. Patrick Gray, who is on the government's papers as of counsel, should now be a witness for us on the question of the affidavit. In the affidavit Williams pretends that I seek an FBI report and they are never available except inside the government and then on a need-to-know basis only. But after filing this affidavit, Gray himself gave FBI reports to the Committee for the Re-election of the President, Dean in the White House, and now to the Senate, with press access. If it is to be argued that the Creeps and the White House had a need to know, I suppose all criminals do. HW 3/11/73
