SOME MYTHS ABOUT THE JEWS

Since the defeat of Nazi Germany, a strong taboo prevented almost all discussion of the Jewish question. Since the 1930's, "liberals" have denounced any criticism of Jews as "despicable Nazi racism". Until about 1970, it was rude and unwise to speak of Jews as a race, nationality or cultural group.

Americans were so thoroughly brainwashed that even hearing the word "Jew" spoken in public was embarrassing. It was proper to speak only of "Americans of the Jewish faith" or "a person who happens to belong to the Jewish religion".

A change began in the 1960's with the civil rights movement in the United States and the rise of militant Negro nationalism.

Negro Suspicions

Negro civil rights figures resented having their Jewish advisors and financiers tell them what they should do next. They suspected that Jewish money and brains were entering the civil rights movement, not out of love for Negroes or any passion for justice, but to disrupt White society.

Jewish and Gentile "liberals" applauded the obscene, savage hatred which the new Negro "intellectuals" directed against the Whites. Together they made Eldridge Cleaver's book, Soul on Ice, required reading for millions of White high school and college students. When the same kind of blacks began to criticize Jews, their White hangers-on had to take them seriously.

Many Negro slum dwellers had noticed that Jews collected their rents and that other Jews owned the neighborhood stores that got the rest of their money. If not, there soon were several Black Nationalist spokesmen to tell them. And, in Black Muslim theology, "Jew devils" roast in a pit noticeably hotter than that reserved for "White Devils".

Jewish Triumph

A very different factor helped to reopen the Jewish question. Ever since the Jews so thoroughly trounced the Arabs in the "Six-Day War" of 1967 (using American weapons), they seem to have thrown discretion to the winds.

They are so proud of that quick success that they can't stop boasting about it. That triumph, they say, belongs to all Jews everywhere, to Jews as a group. And it is as a group that they have been talking about themselves ever since.

The "Liberal" Put Down

This was the decisive turning point.

Before this, if one violated the taboo by mentioning Jewish dominance in the U. S. information media, the nearest "liberal" would deliver a little lecture about all those Jews in television and the publishing business being "just a coincidence". They said Baptists could be controlling the media if they had worked as hard at it and were as good businessmen as the Jews -- and that we should consider all the Jewish TV executives as individuals, not as Jews.

And if one spoke of "organized Jews" or hinted of a "Jewish conspiracy", one was instantly consigned to the "lunatic fringe", along with the "little old ladies in tennis shoes who feared a Communist spy under every bed."

The Taboo is Now Ended

Now, when a Zionist leader, such as Israeli former prime minister Golda Meir, talks about "the organized Jewish world" the comment is quoted by the international news services and nobody lifts an eyebrow. The general news media talk about "the Jewish vote" in the presidential elections, which candidates got the most "Jewish money", and which U. S. Senators are demanding more concessions from the Soviets on "the Jewish issue".

The professional supporters of the State of Israel, the Zionists, talk about the Jewish question in the sharpest terms. They warn about the rising anti-Jewish feeling in America, the alleged genocide in Russia, and the so-called "anti-Semitism" elsewhere. (The term "anti-Semitism" is inaccurate because Arabs also are Semites.)

In the past, most such discussion was aimed at the Jewish community, to solicit money to protect Jewish interests everywhere. Now the Zionists air these complaints publicly: in general newspapers and magazines, in open campus lectures, and with placards in televised demonstrations. Pro-Jewish books in general circulation now offer limited views of the Jewish question. Even some movies and TV programs have ventured onto this formerly forbidden subject.

Pressures Remain --

The lifting of the taboo does not mean that an anti-Jewish or anti-Zionist book is likely to make the best seller list soon. Criticism of Jews which cannot be effectively ridiculed gets the "silent treatment".

There probably is more suppression and fraud on the Jewish question than there is on any other topic except the Negro-White racial problem. But echoes of Allied propaganda for World War II no longer are enough to silence the emerging questions about Jewish influence.

--But the Door is Open

However it came about, the Jewish question is being reopened -- and that's good. Now it is possible to recognize the facts: that most Jews are more than "just people with a different religion"; that they are Jews first, and citizens of the country where they live only second or third; that they work as an organized group, for Jewish interests; and that those interests are usually different from, and often hostile to, the interests of just about everyone else.

When we also discover that Jews have worked their way into the controlling areas of the Western World -- public information, education, finance, domestic government, and foreign policy--the Jewish question becomes the Jewish problem.

Myths About the Problem

At present, few persons are aware of any details supporting these general qualities. Naturally, the Jewish apparatus hopes to discourage inquiry. One psychological weapon is a set of disarming myths. A few of these myths are:

- #1. Gentile bigotry creates the Jewish problem. If "anti-Semitism" did not threaten Jews, there would be no problem. Jews would be just another ethnic element of any country where they live, just as the "Pennsylvania Dutch" (Germans), Minnesota Swedes, or Boston Irish are ethnic elements of the U. S. population. Each has its own characteristics, but does not create a general problem, such as a "Swedish problem".
- #2. Anti-Jewish feeling always reflects either religious intolerance or economic envy. Christian bigots hate Jews because Jews demanded the Crucifixion, and other bigots hate Jews because they are successful.
- #3. The Jews have a tragic history of persecution. Other peoples have bullied them, massacred them, and made Jews scapegoats -- all through no fault of their own. At present, Arab terrorists are "persecuting" them in the Middle East, and the Soviet government is "persecuting" them in Russia. However, the persecution they like to emphasize is the one their people suffered in Germany during World War II. Because of this, all Jews deserve special sympathy and consideration.
- #4. Jews are naturally "liberal", that is, tolerant, pacifist, equalitarian, open-minded and champions of freedom and justice. Their long history of suffering gives them these noble traits.
- #5. Jews are a specially gifted artistic race. This is why Jews dominate almost all cultural fields in America today. There are more Jewish sculptors, painters, writers, composers, directors and performers than there are from the Majority. In line with this, Jews tend to be more sensitive and intellectual, on the average, than persons of European races.

Many books have been written debunking or supporting the above myths. Here, we can only suggest they are myths.

Is Everybody Bigoted Against Jews?

Consider the first claim, that Gentile bigotry causes the Jewish problem. This myth goes with myth #3, that of a tragic history. It began nearly 4,000 years ago, when the ancient Egyptians banished Moses and his tribe from Egypt. It was repeated with the expulsion of the Jews from England in 1290, Germany in 1298, France in 1306, Austria in 1421, Spain in 1492, Portugal in 1496, and so on.

Egyptians, Assyrians, Medes, Persians,

Romans, Anglo-Saxons, French, Spaniards, Portuguese, Cossacks, Poles, Russians, Germans and Arabs have persecuted and massacred the poor Jews. That's quite a wide variety of bigots. It seems that bigotry is almost universal among non-Jewish peoples. Furthermore, this bigotry has centered on Jews over an immense span of history. To this day, no nation seems to have been able to tolerate the Jews indefinitely. "Persecution" has been the inevitable result.

Only Jews Persecuted

Of course, history is a continuous record of different peoples not getting along with one another: French vs. English, English vs. Spanish, French vs. Germans, Irish vs. English, Poles vs. Russians, Chinese vs. Japanese, and so on. But the English never considered themselves "persecuted". Nor do the French, the Germans, or any of the other nationalities mentioned. Only the Jews claim "persecution".

Yet the continual antagonism between the Jews and their various neighbors across forty centuries cannot be denied, although it is rarely detailed or explained. Could it be -- is it remotely possible -- that the reasons come from the Jews themselves rather than from all their unhappy hosts?

"His Blood Be On Us and On Our Children"

History contradicts the myth that the trouble comes from Christian intolerance of "Christ killers". Moslems, atheists and pagans disliked the Jews also. Tacitus, the pagan, Roman historian, wrote of the Jews: "When the Assyrians, and after them the Medes, and the Persians, were the masters of the Oriental world, the Jews were deemed the most contemptible of all the nations then held in subjection." And Tacitus reveals that he and his fellow Romans shared that contempt, thus giving us four peoples in this one example, with four different religions, unanimous in their verdict on the Jews.

If this is due to religious bigotry, perhaps the bigotry is the Jews' rather than all the others'. This was the conclusion reached by Martin Luther, who taught himself to read the Hebrew of the Talmud, the basic religious commentaries of the Jews, and was horrified by their venomous hatred against all non-Jewish peoples. A few excerpts will convince you -- if you can find them.

Jews Have Special Talents

The envy part of myth #2 goes with myth #5, the notion that Jews are especially gifted and that their superior talents achieve their spectacular successes compared to non-Jews.

Let us admit immediately that some Jews do possess unusual talents. It is doubtful that a Gentile writer could have produced novels like Philip Roth's The Breast and Portnoy's Complaint. It is doubtful that a Gentile composer could have treated a sacred theme with quite the same grandiose vulgarity as Leonard Bernstein did with his Mass. It is most unlikely that a Gentile producer could have created such a disgusting box-office success as Joseph Papp's (Papirofsky) musical, Hair.

Jews Dominate our Culture

Almost as notable as the noisy, flashy, Jewish cultural "successes" is the absence of first-class Majority achievement in the arts, literature, music and the theatre. Many competent Gentile artists, writers and composers are still competing, as well as a multitude of hacks, but the balance is shifting steadily toward a totally Jewish cultural establishment.

Great art flowers only in limited conditions, which encourage latent genius to express some aspect of the racial-cultural soul of his people. Conditions obviously are unfavorable in America today. Professor Ernest van den Haag's book, The Jewish Mystique, suggests that Jewish domination of the cultural establishment is a powerful reason.

Different Outlook

Van den Haag correctly observes that "persons whose outlook and sensibility differ radically from what is current, or acceptable, within the establishment are unlikely to be understood by establishment members. They are automatically relegated beyond the pale. For them to be heard, published, read, understood, or appreciated according to their merits, becomes very difficult."

Then he quotes the complaint of a Gentile screen writer for one of the major studios. The screen writer says: "We were talking one day about how a mother would react to finding out that her son had cheated in school. When it came my turn to speak, I said what I had to say. The head of the studio looked at me and said, 'Mr. O'Connor, no mother would react that way.' I told him that I had cheated at school, and that was exactly how my mother had reacted. There was an embarrassed silence for a moment, and then the studio head went on as if I hadn't spoken. My mother had slapped me around a little bit, and then sternly told me to go to the priest and ask God's forgiveness. The response they expected was that the mother would weep a little and take the poor wounded boy to her breast. That's how they wrote it, and for a moment there, they made me feel as if my mother wasn't a member of the human race."

Jews Advance --

In other creative fields -- science for example -- Jews dominate far less than in script-writing, but are, nevertheless, advancing. No doors are slammed in the faces of talented Gentiles yet, but there is already an alien atmosphere which many Gentiles find uncongenial-- and favorable publicity is far more difficult.

Perhaps it is in the business and professional world that the pattern is clearest. In most areas -- retail trade, banking, dentistry, and law are examples -- many Gentiles are still successful, although Jews are gaining in influence and numbers.

In these areas, Gentiles are well aware of their Jewish competitors and whenever this awareness is revealed the envy myth is immediately invoked to explain it.

if he doesn't mention
THE COMMUNIST JEW!

-- Gentiles Retreat

There are other areas, however, where Gentiles can no longer compete. Whole trades and professions have been taken over by the Jews. The garment industry, the wholesale distribution of magazines and paper-backs, the motion-picture business and many others are almost totally owned and managed by Jews. Psychiatry is, for all practical purposes, a Jewish profession.

A Gentile who attempts to trespass on one of these Jewish domains finds practically insurmountable obstacles in his path. He is immediately made to feel that he, not the Jews, is alien. He does not speak their language; he does not know their customs; he does not "belong"

In government for many years, Jews have been everywhere among the top levels of appointed bureaucrats. All this presents two important questions: Is talent solely responsible for this increasing Jewish domination? Or is something else also a possible factor in it?

Jews and "Liberalism"

Now let's look at Jewish "liberalism". It is certainly true that Jews have been overwhelmingly prominent in virtually every "liberal", social disruption of the past 200 years, from the French Revolution through the Soviet enslavement of the Russian people and the recent "liberal causes" in the United States.

Jewish college students outnumbered any other ethnic group among the "freedom riders" of the 1960s.

Jewish students and Jewish lawyers were prime movers in the efforts against the U. S. armed forces throughout the war in Vietnam.

Jewesses have led the crusade for women's "liberation" since the inception of this rather unnatural movement.

In general, any group, movement, or political organization agitating for "peace", "equality", "freedom", or "justice" can be expected to have a disproportionately large number of Jews among its adherents.

Double Standard

But is Jewish "liberalism" a conviction or a convenience? Is it merely a psychological tool for manipulating other peoples? For an answer look at the situation where the Jews have full control: occupied Palestine.

In America, Jewish "liberals" and their allies have made millions of White people feel guilty because our ancestors dispossessed the Indians and exploited Negro slaves. Do the Jewish masters of Palestine, or their fellow Zionists elsewhere, feel guilty because the Zionists have massacred, plundered and forced out Palestinian Arabs?

In America, Jews have been among the loudest critics of our prisons and the staunchest supporters of prison rioters, such as those at Attica. What, then, is their excuse for the concentration camps they operate in Palestine to keep their Arab subjects under control?

In America, Jews preach "equality" for all peoples, races, and religions. Why, then, are Jews the only first-class citizens in Israel?

In America, Jews have been predominantly pacifist and anti-militarist -- except during World War II. How does this agree with their enthusiastic support of Zionist terrorism and aggression in the Middle East?

Forgive Communists, but not Nazis

In the United States, Jews consistently condemn "McCarthyism" and other forms of "witch hunting". They say that people who made the mistake of joining the Communist Party twenty or thirty years ago should not be penalized for that mistake today. Why, then, do the Jews maintain in Tel Aviv massive files on former German National Socialists and direct a worldwide effort to harass them, smear them in the press, hound them from their jobs, and even kidnap and murder them? Why do they preach to us tolerance of our sworn enemies while they practice vengeance against theirs?

Carriers of Decadence

There is no denying the reality of "liberalism" or, more correctly, Welfare State equalitarianism. Millions of Americans are infected with this ideological virus, which is weakening our people and wrecking our country. And it is clear that Jews are leading transmitters of this disease (which has brought once-Great Britain to its present, sorry state). But the examples already given suggest that it weakens only men of the West...and that Jews, like Typhoid Mary, are immune carriers of the illness.

Morale Broken

Our armed forces, once the pride of our Nation, are being effectively undermined. What serviceman is not aware of the catastrophic state of discipline and morale?

Equalitarian theorists have replaced fighters and leaders in the top ranks. Thus, a recent Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Zumwalt, ordered his officers to "give the same priority to race relations that you do to keeping your ships from running aground".

And when Black sailors organized a mutiny aboard a warship in a combat zone, seized a White sailor, tied him up, and, Mau-Mau style, cut off his right hand with a pocket knife, this same Chief of Naval Operations ordered the captain of the ship to concern himself first and foremost with settling the "Blacks' grievances" -- and our mass media played down the gory details of the "incident".

Remember the Liberty!

No self-respecting nation would have tolerated, as the United States did, the Israeli attack on the U. S. S. Liberty in 1967. Thirty-five U. S. seamen were killed in that arrogant, deliberate, and unprovoked act of war, and President Lyndon Johnson did not lift a finger.

The lies told then, that the attack on the Liberty was a case of mistaken identity, have been exposed repeatedly in various memoirs. But that exposure has not even slightly embarrassed those responsible; they still have a firm grip on the ring through America's nose.

JEW

are and always have been
THE REAL WAR CRIMINALS!

Zionists Control Foreign Policy

U. S. Foreign Policy -- toward the Soviet Union, China, the Arab nations, and the rest of the world -- is not based on what is best for the American people. It is manipulated by an alien race, for its own ends. Since the 1972 presidential elections, candidates try to outdo each other in showing their servility to Zionism.

All these hints show that the Jewish problem is complex and subtle. Nevertheless, it is a problem -- a problem which should be recognized and solved before we get sucked into a war for Israel.

Survival is at Stake

The future of our Nation and of our race depend on finding some solution to the-Jewish problem.

Have we no self-respect? Are we as debased and materialistic as our manipulators? Is a full belly all we care about?

It is foolish to dream that a people who have given up their sovereignty and their honor can keep their wealth, their comfort, or even their lives, for very long.

The only way we can hope to save ourselves begins with blasting away the smoke screens and lies which have concealed the problem from us.

Intelligent Action

The reader who thinks for himself enough to question the Jewish propaganda must not stop here. He must take the responsibility for studying further, so he can act intelligently as a patriot and as a member of his Western racial community.

END.
