Case 1/15/71

Now, now this is looking down the hallway in the rooming house, this is the bathroom, the tub is over this way of course you can see the commode there. This is the room right here that Ray rented. Uh around around this corridor and immediately to your right is the witness Stevens' room. He had two rooms, one as you go in the door and then the one that faces out on the back.

The the, as you can see, this is a rather cheap boarding house, the walls are very thin. Uh the witness Stevens, at the time the shot was fired, was uh uh working on a radio on a on a table up against this bathroom partition wall. And, of course, he said it sounded like an 88 millimeter cannon going off in the in the bathroom when uh when that rifle went off.

Uh I might add I might add here, when Ray rented this room, which he immediately uh said was all right with him as soon as she showed him the room, uh Stevens, the witness who lived in this in this room around the corner, heard the landlady's voice. He was having trouble with his hot water heater,

But uh when Stevens heard his landlady's voice out in the hall, he came out and stood by this bannister and identified Ray, who was standing in the hallway right here looking into the room, the landlady was standing in the doorway showing Ray the room. Uh he uh Stevens identified Ray as being the person that was standing there talking to the landlady looking into the room.
