Bid to privatize Macau station put off for now

BY TAD STONER

HONG KONG — Chinese authorities have finally derailed the effort to privatize Macau's TV station, touching off widespread fears that similar attempts to thwart a sell-off of Radio Television Hong Kong will also succeed.

The announcement last week that efforts to privatize the government-run Telefusao de Macau (TdM), the enclave's only TV station and dominant radio broadcaster, were to be put on hold indefinitely sent shock waves through the Hong Kong establishment, which is also engaged in a bitter dispute with Beijing about privatization of the Crown Colony's official RTHK.

Macau, 40 miles along the south China coast from Hong Kong and administered by the Portuguese, is scheduled to return to Beijing's rule in 1999, two years after a similar transfer of authority over this British colony.

Beijing has worked to stop TdM's privatization since a consultant's report last summer recommended significant structural changes to stop mounting losses, which have reached $13.7 million at the five-year-old station. Among the innovations suggested by KPMG Peat Marwick were a sale to private operators of both TdM's Cantonese-language and Portuguese-language TV services.

ITC

The ITC has the legal right to impose its own scheduling system if the ITVA cannot come to an agreement, and has set Easter as a deadline.

Last Tuesday's ITC briefing, followed by an ITVA briefing from chairman Greg Dyke and Granada CEO Andrew Quinn, were postponed indefinitely.

$125, will be screened with five other locally-produced shorts to vie for the award. The winning entry will bag a cash prize of $6,200 and the runner-up will take away $3,100.

Khoo and Hussain said they were relieved the film was not censored and passed under the restricted rating. "The controversal scenes include a topless scene and another which shows the butcher's sons making love to prostitutes," Khoo said.
