

Dr. Robert Turner
212 Evangeline Drive
Mandeville, LA 70478

10/13/96

Dear Bob,

Those same four pages are missing from one of the four remaining copies of O in NO I still have. Sorry. They are enclosed.

There is so much we cannot know, so much that should have been done that was not done, it is not easy to be confident about firm answers to autopsy questions but I believe there is no question at all about the anterior neck wound being of entrance and that does make it appear that the wound on the back was of exit.

I do not recall the new manuscript ^{2/1} I referred to but one is now being retyped. I hope that when it is finished I'll be able to provide a disk of it but am not now certain. I do not anticipate publication as a book although it and the others are written with that in mind.

If you are up this way again, of course you'll be welcome.

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold
Harold Weisberg

October 9, 1996

Harold Weisberg
7627 Old Receiver Road
Frederick, MD 21702

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I want to thank you and your wife for taking the time to visit with Roger and me several weeks ago. It was a great experience to meet you and to discuss your experiences and views relative the assassination. Perhaps I can visit again sometime in the future when I am in the area.

When reading Oswald in New Orleans, I discovered that my copy is missing pages 234 - 237. I thought you would like to know so that you can check the copies you have on hand.

I am currently reading Post Mortem. I am trying to resolve the issue of the back wound. Is it an entrance wound, or an exit wound for the neck wound? How many shots; what directions; where did the bullets go? Thus far, the book has been very helpful, but I am still somewhat confused.

One thing that Post Mortem and your other books make very clear is the failure of the government to honestly and thoroughly investigate the assassination. In addition, you demonstrate the continuing effort to protect the lies that were forced on the American public. It is interesting how easy it is to corrupt large organizations and bureaucracies.

You mentioned a new manuscript that you have completed. Did you say it was available on disk, or some other medium? Will it be published?

Thank you again for your hospitality.

Sincerely,

Robert G. Turner
212 Evangeline Dr.
Mandeville, LA 70471
504 568-4339 (work)
504 845-3198 (home)