Dear Mr. Thompson,

I didn't make myself clear, you misunderstood me or both. But thanks for the gift. However, it is not a question of paying for the time but of finding it. I've aged incredibly in the past 7 years, sleep four-five hrs a night only, and have five or six books researched and ready to write. Plus many other things, like filing law suits, continuing research, helping other, etc.

You are correct in thinking I do not want POST MORTEM listed. I simply can't engage in all the pointless correspondence it would lead to

However, it would be good to list FRAME-UP, but NOT GASP.

You are in a position where you can make no distinction between nuts and crooks and people doing real work. Marks and Skolnick are both nuts and crooks, hence your problems with them. Neither has drawn an original breath, or on this subject, a rationale.

"Relative" is in the mid. I agree with Penn, but the book by Luttwick does not address the JFK or any other assassination, from the reviews. It says how to take over. "Who's Who in the C.I.A." is crap. I have it.

What you say of used cameras is correct, but to sell the new one it is often necessary to trade for the old. That model is scarce.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
