

In the light of your editorial position on the Garrison "investigation" into the Kennedy assassination, I believe that you and your readers will be interested in excerpts from a letter which I have sent to Kerry Thornley, a former fellow-Marine of Lee Harvey Oswald:

As I understand the facts, you were unable to identify John Rene Heindel as the Marine with whom Lee Harvey Oswald conversed in Russian during the time when you were both in service, thus frustrating a plan to charge Heindel with perjury and/or conspiracy if he denied such conversations with Oswald: Garrison, who had considered you a "friendly witness," then placed you under suspicion of clandestine association with Oswald during his residence in New Orleans in 1963 and charged, privately if not publicly, that you were an agent of the CIA. He produced before the New Orleans grand jury a woman who identified you—more than four years after the alleged "fact"—as the man she had seen together with Oswald in a New Orleans cafe in the summer or fall of 1963. This, you denied in sworn testimony before the grand jury. The grand jury did not hand down an indictment but the District Attorney, on the basis of the testimony of his witness, then issued a warrant for your arrest on a charge of perjury.

I am further informed that you do not have means to ensure a proper legal representation against charges which appear to result from outright harassment and entrapment, on wholly false grounds, by an unscrupulous and vindictive prosecutor who is pressing an uninformed, irresponsible, and often lunatic "investigation" into the Kennedy assassination which threatens to cast into utter disrepute all challenges to the Warren Report, including those which are legitimate, impartial, and scholarly.

Such flagrant abuse of trust and such ruthless action against innocent bystanders can only arouse my disgust and indignation—the more so when committed in the name of truth and justice, and abetted by certain of the critics of the Warren Report who supposedly were wholly committed to high principles and the strictest ethical standards. I am enclosing herewith my check for one hundred dollars to assist you in meeting legal costs in defending yourself against specious and malicious charges which amount to outright frame-up. I am also sending copies of this letter to a number of persons, including reporters and editors, in the hope that they will be willing to call public attention to your plight and to assist you with funds to meet the costs of your defense. You may feel sure that I will use every opportunity which presents itself to make the facts known and to enlist support.

administration by being put on social probation—which amounts to being told to stand in the corner for an hour. The student body was quite aroused by the assault and was most sympathetic and yet all were afraid to raise a hand or even a word against the trained assassin.
Perhaps this is an insignificant sidelight to an often frightening situation, but it is one which we may all feel personally as the ranks of the assassins grow.

AN ALLEGED PACIFIST ON GUEVARA

Apropos of Curtis Zahn's deprecating letter (May TMO) on John Gerassi's article about Ernesto Guevara, I wish to say that yes, Ernesto Guevara was a dropout. He was a dropout from a venal, repressive and depressive oligarchy. He was a dropout from a decadent, rapacious social system. He scorned the parasitic life of the misnamed upper classes which was his for the asking, and he devoted all his strength to the overthrow of a corrupt ruling class.

Zahn's letter reveals his total ignorance of Guevara's selfless and revolutionary zeal and it manifests Zahn's own pitiful and absurd view of the dynamic forces at work in Latin America.
Mr. Zahn would like a reconstruction of Latin-American society, but he wants it without dislocations, rough stuff, or upsets of the status quo. His revolution would come in a neat little package with a blue and white ribbon and marked, "Fragile," "Handle with care."

FRED KLEIN

The letter of Curtis Zahn of Malibu Beach, Calif., (a lovely place) reads like a beach-boy William Buckley. It indicates considerable expertise on the general futility of all things, including being an expert on same. He seems to be (pathologically?) averse to any leftist bestir-ment. (It's never right!) He invokes twisted psychology (wouldn't you guess it!)—the reason for anything is always other than the obvious!
His long diatribe is asinine beguilement.

THE PRESIDENT TOPPLED?

Regardless of the ultimate conclusion of the American adventure in Vietnam and despite eventual happenings on the local political scene, no one can deny that the President of the "richest and most powerful" nation on earth has been toppled. I know of no similar situation in the brief history of this nation.

There will come a time when historians will record the event and they shall doubtlessly be chauvinists who will refurbish this miracle with trappings to tax the imagination of even the most gullible. It is, therefore, my suggestion that The Minority of One immediately undertake an exhaustive research study into the events leading to the overthrow of the Establishment, and when completed, run it in serial form. Our progeny are entitled to know the entire truth and to have named as many as possible of the heroes of this Second American Revolution.

I am sure that the greater proportion of the glory belongs to the brave Vietnamese who thus far have thwarted the aggressors. Nor can we overlook the handful of courageous Congressmen, the youth who faced imprisonment for the fulfillment of their ideals, the protesters who risked beatings by the police and the many who gave of their time and money in unstinting amounts. It took, perhaps, millions of axes all over the globe to bring down the mighty oak.

Their reward is the knowledge that society has not yet been foreclosed of all morality.

A GARRISON VICTIM

In the light of your editorial position on the Garrison "investigation" into the Kennedy assassination, I believe that you and your readers will be interested in excerpts from a letter which I have sent to Kerry Thornley, a former fellow-Marine of Lee Harvey Oswald:

As I understand the facts, you were unable to identify John Rene Heindel as the Marine with whom Lee Harvey Oswald conversed in Russian during the time when you were both Heindel with perjury and/or conspiracy if he denied such conversations with Oswald. Garrison, who had considered you a "friendly witness," then placed you under suspicion of clandestine association with Oswald during his residence in New Orleans in 1963 and charged, privately if not publicly, that you were an agent of the CIA. He produced before the New Orleans grand jury a woman who identified you—more than four years after the alleged "fact"—as the man she had seen together with Oswald in a New Orleans cafe in the summer or fall of 1963.

This, you denied in sworn testimony before the grand jury. The grand jury did not hand down an indictment but the District Attorney, on the basis of the testimony of his witness, then issued a warrant for your arrest on a charge of perjury.

I am further informed that you do not have against charges which appear to result from outright harassment and entrapment, on wholly false grounds, by an unscrupulous and vindictive prosecutor who is pressing an uninformed, irresponsible, and often lunatic "investigation" into the Kennedy assassination which threatens to cast into utter disrepute all challenges to the Warren Report, including those which are legitimate, impartial, and scholarly.

Such flagrant abuse of trust and such ruthless action against innocent bystanders can only arouse my disgust and indignation—the more so when committed in the name of truth and justice, and abetted by certain of the critics of the Warren Report who supposedly were wholly committed to high principles and the strictest ethical standards. I am enclosing herewith my
