Dear Lou,

Here are the Thornley letters, with envelopes, and the Bostright employment records. Especially because of the "loss" of the first set I sent you, I again remind you of the agreement under which I got this material and Bostright's cooperation: that no one not on the paid staff would see it and no public use would be made unless necessary in court. I again remind you that Bob was supposed to go over the copies of his personal phone book, eliminate what is not germane on all three sets, and send me mine. This has not happened. It just isn't right for all those names having no connection with anything to be kicking around loosely. I suggest that aside from establishing when Bostright was in N.C. and his connection with Courtney, etc., his personal records need interest no one.

My copier is not working well and I'm almost out of paper. It costs me $75.00 to get a new supply. So, again I have made but a single set. Can you please Xerox what you need for yourself and return these to me so I'll have a set to work with? I have several people to see in this area as soon as I get time, including the person who made Bostright possible. If there is any new material of which I should know before I see these people I'd like to know about it.

One name on a card is Harry Sutton. I think Creste mentioned this name as connected with Terrie, but I am not certain. Of the last name I am. Again, this is not too uncommon a name. But we can follow back with FB on him.

Because after a week you did not have the negatives the other way and I am waiting for prints for other work with them, one way or another I'll send this to the office registered. I'll be leaving for New York early in the morning, so, with the local P.O. already closed for the weekend, that'll take some doing.

I forgot the New York Times story in the previous mailing, mentioned in a letter to Jim. Herat is.

Sincerely,
