He is wrong on both Mr. Halperin (who he says was a Communist) and his ated prof. Dr. MNR was not Dr. D James here who may have had Ernesto Gallarza among his friends). The fact is that at that period Dr.
MNR was precisely that - Nazi, just as in the Pacific area some of the resistant or many groups were pro-Japanese, the object of it all being to see the parents as conspiracy allies to release themselves from the oppression under which they lived. And in the USSR, the Nazis were the enemy of the U.S. whether or not they found the politics of the MNR otherwise to his liking. He found a man worthy of mention that Halperin's successor was a fascist & close to and affiliated with Trujillo
