in Lao, in HARRISONBURG, VIRGINIA the most vigorous & shocking conduct, he nonetheless carefully looks for himself & the Pensionary administration by omitting reference to the one most obvious & central fact: Once R. became president he would have had the settlement Sch. says he wanted by a very simple expedient: cutting off all US aid & money to North Vietnam, the complete CIA withdrawal.
There was no need to look in all with him & every reason - if A is telling the truth about the real policy of the administration - of ending him & what he stood for. The failure of the administration to do so looks unmistakable doubt on Sch's apologia for it, & on his historical integrity.
