By Rick Du Brow

NBC-TV will present on U.S.S.R." July 11 what it describes as former Soviet Premier Nikita adds that "the former Premier "an unprecedented study of S. Khrushchev, based on ex- talks about his rise to power clusive films, photographs and and his relationship with Stavoice tapes."

The network says the onehour, prime-time broadcast will show "for the first time ment." The title given by of the Cuban missile crisis and NBC-TV to the program is "Khrushchev in Exile-His in the past decade." Opinions and Revelations."

According to a network announcement, "NBC News obtained the film and other from private sources inside dog, Arbat, an Alsatian, and the Soviet Union and in other countries around the world. These have never before been made public."

The producer of the broadcast is Lucy Jarvis, whose cre-gathered from private albums, dits include "The Kremlin," shows Khrushchev throughout "The Louvre," "Who Shall shows Khrushchev throughout Live?" and "Bravo Picasso!" The reporter is Edwin Newman, who worked on the script with Frank Gervasi, former foreign correspondent and biographer.

NBC-TV's broadcast arouses particular interest because the Soviet Union has proved to be highly sensitive to American television programs about its leaders. The Moscow bureaus of U.S. networks have been closed from time to time because of broadcasts that offended the Russians.

CBS-TV For example, a drama that purported to show how Stalin died angered the Soviets. So did several NBC-TV documentaries about the death of Stalin and the rise of Khrushchev.

And just in the past week, the Russians indicated anew their sensitivity to broadcasts they find unpleasant. They from Sunday's withdrew global satellite program because of the Middle East crisis, and one of their criticisms concerned the coverage of the Arabs by Western broadcasters during the war with Israel. According to NBC-TV, the

July 11 special "will feature Khrushchev's recently recorded reminiscenses, told in his own voice and translated for the telecast, of events in his remarkable career and of many of the world personalic, ties whom he encountered

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - while he was the leader of the

THE ANNOUNCEMENT lin, speaks frankly about world leaders, including Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy and Red China's Mao Tse-tung, and gives his version

Furthermore, says NBC-TV, the hour shows Khrushchev's home and his daily routine: "It shows him walking through his fields with his taking photographs-one of his major interests. The film includes scenes of his family, visiting and dining with him. A sequence of still photographs in the documentary, his life."

The broadcast will have sequences in both color and black-and-white.

Radio and Television

NBC Will Telecast Khrushchev Study