

Students Wants Cuba Ideas Here

HAVANA, June 18 (UPI) — The leader of a group of 75 American Students visiting Cuba in defiance of a State Department ban said today that the visitors want to take socialism back to their country.

"We want to know the correct methods used here as well as your mistakes to be well prepared to take socialism to our country," said Edward Lemanski, 23, of New York.

Lemanski said he donated to a Cuban blood bank yesterday because "my Government is responsible for the loss of much Cuban blood and I want to give back the Cuban people some of that lost blood . . . Several others here think the same way . . ."

Yvonne Bond of San Francisco said her blood donation represented to her "my biggest anti imperialist gesture . . . I want it used in some Cuban wounded fighting against any eventual attack by the U.S. . . ."

All of the students in the group donated blood except Scott Wilson, 16, of San Francisco, who was under the minimum donor's age. He called Communist Cuba "a wonderful thing . . ."

THE WASHINGTON POST Friday, June 18, 1964 A 23

Judy Chessman of New York, who said she was a City College student, said her blood donation was in gratitude to the Cuban people.