"Victor Lippmann suggested that references to the term must be changed from 'enemy' to 'adversary'."

This language had been in the draft through several revisions.

"The speech, 2 days (245) contained a request to the communists for a new quest for peace." There was evidence that followed showing any major U.S. effort to achieve it. Beginning with Vietnam led from to have a mutual process of his paradigm, even though he said, "Let the word go with from this time & also, to find a way for which, that the book has been passed to a new generation of Americans." Once again, some me.
