Dear Harold,

I am returning, at last, this manuscript to you. I am so sorry that I have been of no help to you. I am kept so busy with writing medical stories - the latest being a series on cancer - that I just cannot get into the Kennedy material and I have utterly failed in getting other people interested. Too many people just seem to want to pick at it and I don't want to be just another one.

I have talked to one contact I have in the BBC and got no encouragement. The fact is the BBC news is becoming very conservative in its choice and approach to topics - I think as a result of pressures because of our problems in Northern Ireland.

I hope you manage to keep going. I cannot imagine you ever giving up. I am going to ask our New York office to get me a copy of your latest publication.

Sincerely,

Plaver
