

1813

h lbylvyyv

Traynell EL 430

By ARTHUR EVERETT

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK AP - The federal skyjacking case against Carrett Traynell was declared a mistrial Monday, because of reports that the trial judge threatened an investigation of a lone juror's boldness for acquittal.

In addition to newspaper reports of such a threat, Traynell himself accused Brooklyn federal judge George Rosling of conspiring with the prosecution
"to coerce a serving juror."

"You have my assurance that I did not go along with the idea that a juror had to be investigated," Rosling told the six men and six women jurors
as he discharged them and ordered a retrial.

The jury had been deadlocked 11-1 since last Thursday
in favor of convicting the 34-year-old Traynell. During the five-week trial, he did not deny the hijacking last year of a TWA transcontinental jetliner, but instead pleaded insanity.

The lone holdout for acquittal was a welfare worker, Gertrude Hass. She complained in a letter to Rosling that other jurors had subjected her to "a constant barrage of physical, verbal and emotional pressures, including insults phrased in vile language and in a variety of other ways."

In the absence of the jury, Rosling said in reply: "No one is so superior in his or her outward manifestations of authority dealing with a welfare case than a welfare clerk."

He said Mrs. Hass "probably feels so smart that she doesn't have to listen to anyone."

Finally, according to the court transcript, Rosling told opposing lawyers: "If I have to discharge this jury, I think it will be my duty to advise the recalcitrant juror that she may expect some business from government agencies to find out if this was the performance of her jury function or some other function."

This was interpreted in newspaper stories over the weekend as a threat to Mrs. Hagg. Rogling declared the mistrial on the basis of the accounts.

Fraynell, meanwhile, made public a letter he sent to U.S. A t t y . Robert Morse of Brooklyn.

Fraynell accused Rogling of "criminal collusion" with the U.S. Attorney's office in Brooklyn, and "obstruction and restriction of the civil rights of Garrett Fraynell, conspiracy to coerce a serving juror ...and the obstruction and manipulation of justice in the United States of America."

After Mrs. Hagg made her complaint last week, Fraynell's lawyers quoted him as saying: "Tell the reporters that one little old lady didn't buy a tick- et on Rogling's railroad."

Defense attorney Richard Rogenkrans said he would seek to have the retrial before another judge.