investments of the top hoodlums in Gagliano's loan shark operation bore the brunt of the mobsters' indignation, detectives said.

Police were told Gagliano indulged in a little juice loan activity on its own, a practice frowned on by the hoodlums who invested in the operation.

SET SENTENCING OF EX-MARINE IN KNIFE CASE
Thomas A. Vallee, 30, of 4614 N. Paulina st., an ex-marine, was found guilty yesterday of unlawful use of a weapon by Judge Gordon B. Nash of Jury court, who set Jan. 23 for sentencing.

Vallee, who was arrested at Damen and Wilson avenues on Nov. 2 for making a turn without signaling, said he carried a hunting knife on the seat of his car for protection because he worked in a near west side area.
