Dear Mr. Wiseberg,

The Handy Book Exchange gets books from us.

You are lucky to have a copy of Oswald in New Orleans. It has been out of print for years and copies are costly and scarce.

There are very few books I can recommend to those who want fact rather than conspiracy theorizing and the two best have long been out of print. Perhaps Mr. Navis has copies of can be alert for the very few that infrequently are available.

One is Sylvia Meagher's Accessories After the Fact. It was reprinted more than a decade ago by Vantage, originally, Bobbs-Merrill.

The other is Howard Roffman's Presume Guilty. Fairleigh-Dickinson University Press.

The only good video of which I know is Reasonable Doubt. It was done by a master's candidate as his thesis at the University of Maryland. I do not have his address since college but if you write him at his mother's address, it will get to him. That is 6913 Donachie Road, Baltimore, Md. 21239

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I have very recently begun to research the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, November 22, 1963. Like so many others, I have never believed the "official" conclusions of what happened. I have just purchased many books on the topic, including six of yours. These are: Post Mortem, Whitewash IV, Whitewash - Report on Warren Commission, Photographic Whitewash, Whitewash II and Oswald in New Orleans. I have also just read the book "High Treason" by R. Groden and H. Livingstone. Your address was provided in this book. I have obtained most of my books from Al Navis of the Handy Book Exchange here in Toronto. Al is very helpful and well informed concerning the assassination.

I am only 32 years old, but I remember the assassination being broadcast on the public address system at school. Even back then it was a shock to me as well as all Canadians. I believe very strongly in the importance of continued research into the assassination. Hopefully one day, the whole truth will prevail and those responsible for the assassination will be held accountable.

Any help you could provide me on sources of information, books, articles or videos would be greatly appreciated. I am looking forward to your reply.

Sincerely,

Michael Wiseberg
