

7/6/67

Dear Moury,

Here is my letter to Midgley. Remember, you are going to return.

Also a letter to United News, indicating an additional problem I have getting my books available in Phila. From their attitude you'd never dream that they owe us $1,200.00 would you? Or that when they agreed to have their truck take their copies of WHITEWASH II from the printer's, where they send trucks regularly, they agreed to take 100 for Dave Salsburg that he never got and after my broadcast, of 12/8 his customers were driving him crazy for copies of the book he didn't have.

This is not the only place I have such trouble. There are some major cities in which, when I have tried, - just have not been able to get a wholesaler to carry the book. The nature of the business and their practise of it is such that the effect is to give it to them on consignment and then to give them a free bank account! If we had the money owed us on just these two books, we'd not have financial problems. I just had to go to the bank and borrow what for me is a veyusizeable hunk of dough, $25,000, yet we have more than $30,000 coming to us!

And my printer? With this money coming to me I haven't the spare cash to pay him for the job he had just done. He is decent, knew this in advance and, knowing he'd get paid, agreed.

So, there is more than just writing a book on an unwelcome subject to getting it out - and then paying for it.

There are those who call it scavenging!

Best to you all,