Dear Chris,

Extra and perhaps unnecessary caution prompted my not telling you of another story when we spoke yesterday. However, since you were here I have come across records on me that have to have telephone origin.

The CIA had an unreported operation similar to Hoover's on Dr. King. They did not overtly try to ruin him but they conducted the same kinds of espionage, passed around records alleging he was Chicom and obtaining even the contents of his packets/wallet.

Of these I have copies, including a handwritten note of a Washington address on which I have a partial city directory check.

Copies of such purchases as of handkerchiefs, neckties and swimming trunks are included; phone numbers, some with names; notes to him to call people, etc., together with disclosure of a domestic intelligence operation it knew was wrong and tried without success to turn over to the FBI.

They knew immediately what the President was telling black leaders and their sources appear to have had input, when Dr. King was killed.

Some of the stuff is ludicrous as it relates to their representations in court, some is false swearing, and all represents an effort to negate FOIA before a sycophantic judge.

Hastily,
