Dear, deer-hunting friend,

You should have been here! Sometimes they are within 20 feet of the house, often less than a hundred, there is still a record crop after a record-breaking hunt, and the amazing thing is that for all the over-population I've seen none that are stunted.

I have ~~some~~^{had} a succession of health reverses, six successful operations since I was last there, all six followed by complications, but by and large I feel pretty good and have adjusted to the limitations on what I may do that appear to be permanent. I came through open-heart surgery about a year ago fine but then developed a ~~xxx~~ hernia at that site they won't operate on unless there is some emergency. Second time the doctors did not expect me to survive the surgery.

I'm glad you survived your heart attack so well and can be as active as you are! We are part of a tough generation that survived what most younger people have no real way of appreciating.

I'm sorry you were never near here so you could see the archive I've accumulated. About 60 file cabinets, mostly full, plus countless boxes. All will be part of a permanent and public archive at local Hood College, one of the very best small colleges in the country. By means of modern electronic gadgetry they will make copies available to other educational institutions for those who can't get there.

You mention having information at home you've not looked at. If it is what I did not give you, I'd appreciate being able to see it, if you would lend it to me or let me have copies. I can't travel or I'd want to go down and see that information, you and other people down there. If you have no future plans for the information you have, I hope you will consider adding it to this archive which will be, I assure you, by far the largest and devoid on the nuttiness that has gotten and continues to get most attention.

This reminds me. Oliver Stone and other Hollywood people, undeterred by having been induced to go for the fraudulent Ricky White story, have hired those who foisted it and him off on them to act as their technical advisers on another JFK assassination film or documentary. I see little possibility of it being factual and responsible. I've heard that they have been working down there. ~~xxx~~ As a friend and not intending any intrusion, I urge you to be careful if you have anything to do with them. I've learned that those kinds of people make promises they do not keep, edit to suit their preconceptions, often juxtapose to suit their own purposes, and can cause embarrassment.

I hope the year is a good one for you and that you have many more to follow it.

With all best wishes,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Harold:

I had two young men from Baltimore visit me on Friday, along with a local person and we spoke at length about the assassination. I told them I got more information from you than anybody else but had some information at the house that I never looked at.

They told me you were having some health problems which I certainly hope get better. I want to wish you a happy new year and I miss hearing from you.

Your Friend,

Henry Wade
