

20734

June 1, 1966

Mr. Lawrence Stern
Washington Post
1515 L Street, NW
Washington, D. C.

Dear Larry:

The character of our phone conversation this afternoon took me so aback that I forgot to remind you of the following things of mine you have promised to return: The list of questions with citations; the excerpts from the FBI report; and a Xeroxed copy of the book.

I was further shocked by your citation as evidence that Dr. Shaw espoused Spector's one-bullet-seven-wounds theory because even in your hasty reading of it over the telephone it was clear this excerpt said the opposite of what you imputed to it. So I looked it up and I find it in Volume VI, page 91. It reads as follows:

"Dr. Shaw. I have always felt that the wounds of Governor Connally could be explained by the passage of one missile through his chest, striking his wrist and a fragment of it going on into his left thigh. I had never entertained the idea that he had been struck by a second missile."

It is clear that what Dr. Shaw here says is that he "always felt" that a "separate" bullet struck the Governor, fragmented, and a fragment of it went into his left thigh.

So your citation of authentication of the Report is doubly destructive of your argument in that a) the bullet did not, as the report requires, go through the President; and b) it fragmented instead of remaining intact.

Over and above all of this, as I earlier informed you, this answer was an response to a question about a hypothesis. I state again, if you desire further authentication of any of the statements I have made to you, you need only call upon me for it and whatever time it requires I will invest. You may recall that in our yesterday's conversation I suggested one of two procedures to clearly establish the facts: a) that Mr. Willens prove me wrong, or b) prove himself right with direct quotations and citations. This challenge still stands.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

20734

June 1, 1966

Mr. Lawrence Stern
Washington Post
1515 L Street, NW
Washington, D. C.

Dear Larry:

The character of our phone conversation this afternoon took me so aback that I forgot to remind you of the following things of mine you have promised to return: The list of questions with citations; the excerpts from the FBI report; and a Xeroxed copy of the book.

I was further shocked by your citation as evidence that Dr. Shaw espoused Specter's one-bullet-seven-wounds theory because even in your hasty reading of it over the telephone it was clear this excerpt said the opposite of what you imputed to it. So I looked it up and I find it in Volume VI, page 91. It reads as follows:

"Dr. Shaw. I have always felt that the wounds of Governor Connally could be explained by the passage of one missile through his chest, striking his wrist and a fragment of it going on into his left thigh. I had never entertained the idea that he had been struck by a second missile."

It is clear that what Dr. Shaw here says is that he "always felt" that a "separate" bullet struck the Governor, fragmented, and a fragment of it went into his left thigh.

So your citation of authentication of the Report is doubly destructive of your argument in that a) the bullet did not, as the Report requires, go through the President; and b) it fragmented instead of remaining intact.

Over and above all of this, as I earlier informed you, this answer was an response to a question about a hypothesis. I state again, if you desire further authentication of any of the statements I have made to you, you need only call upon me for it and whatever time it requires I will invest. You may recall that in our yesterday's conversation I suggested one of two procedures to clearly establish the facts: a) that Mr. Willens prove me wrong, or b) prove himself right with direct quotations and citations. This Challenge still stands.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

THE WASHINGTON POST COMPANY REMITTANCE ADVICE

DESCRIPTION OF PAYMENT

DATE	INVOICE NUMBER	*NET AMOUNT
JUL 8 66	EXPENSES MAY '66	8.10

*AMOUNTS SHOWN ARE NET AFTER DISCOUNT, IF ANY

DETACH THIS STUB BEFORE DEPOSITING CHECK