

Mr. Jonathan Yardley, book critic
The Washington Post
1150 15 St., NW
Washington, DC 20071

8/3/93

Dear Mr. Yardley,

Nice to get your good wishes on my 51st wedding anniversary.

It will be interesting to see how many reviewers will do any checking at all when given Harrison Livingstone's ~~book~~ <sup>one's</sup> Killing the "ruth". Kent Carroll told PW that "many (critics) have, for one reason or another, put out a lot of <sup>dis</sup>information, furthering the conspiracy."

Or, at the least, we are <sup>a</sup> accessories after the fact.

In his letters to and about me he has me in two different but related conspiracies, the one to kill and the one to keep him from breaking the case open!

Kent Carroll certainly knows something about "put(ting) out a lot of disinformation."

Don't take time to acknowledge. I just wanted to say thanks and perhaps amuse you a bit.

Sincerely,

The Washington Post

1150 15TH STREET, N. W.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20071

(202) 334-6000

JONATHAN YARDLEY
BOOK CRITIC

August 2, 1993

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Thanks for your letter. I'm glad to learn that you're still fighting the good fight, and wish you all the best.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Jonathan Yardley".