Hjalmar first praised the skill and
...with which Dr. Kissinger had acted in the ...emergency. "Imagine," he said, "how
...brought peace to Vietnam in only four
...short years."

Hjalmar then turned to the subtle
...diplomatic tactics that had produced the
...achievement. "The secret bombing of
...Cambodia," he said, "the invasion of
...Laos, the invasion of Laos, the
...bombing of Hanoi, the siege of
...Saigon — all these, gentle men,
...are lasting monuments to
...the genius for peace."

...what caused the joy was that
...America had dropped three bombs
...in Vietnam since the
...end of World War II. "It is
...a greater triumph than
...any other," said Hjalmar, "and
...the other members cheered, and
...the great massive wave of praise
...in the history of mankind."

...the speaker's sharing of the

...of the Peace Program was a
...great triumph.

...Dr. Kissinger awarded the
...Nobel Prize, and the other
...members of the Nobel
...Committee in Oslo, Norway, had
...just received the news.

...the Nobel Prize was of course
...enhanced Dr. Kissinger's reputation
...as a peace maker. Indeed, he immediately
...called Arab and foreign diplomats into his
...office and generously suggested America
...achieve peace in the Middle East precisely
...as she was doing in Vietnam.

...Reports that the Arabs and Israelis fled
...according to the report were hurried
...to the Nobel Committee.
