Mr. Tom Chittum: 23 Alabama Avenue Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey 07849

Dear Mr. Chittum:

I apologize for not having responded sooner to your letter of April 10th. However, I just recently received your correspondence from my publisher in New York.

I must confess to a very strong bias as it relates to Gerald Posner. I do not accept anything that he says, and consider his book to contain enumerable misrepresentations of a serious nature.

If Kellerman, a Secret Service Agent who was present in the car when Kennedy was shot, stated under oath that he heard JFK say something, why would anybody prefer to believe Posner?

I should like to urge you to obtain a copy of a complete rebuttal to Posner's book entitled Case Open by Harold Weisberg (address below). Mr. Weisberg, who is one of the most respected and knowledgeable JFK critic-researchers, has addressed many of Posner's misstatements in his book.

In light of your genuine interest in the JFK assassination, I should like to make you aware of a new organization, Coalition on Political Assassinations (COPA). Perhaps you might wish to consider becoming an active member and receiving our publication and other announcements. Also, we shall be conducting a conference in Washington,

Mr. Tom Chittum Page 2 July 29, 1994

D.C., October 7-10. I shall see to it that you are sent membership and conference materials directly from the COPA office in D.C. in the near future.

Sincerely yours,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., J.D.

Dear Dr. Wecht:

I've not yet finished reading the segment of your book - CAUSE OF DEATH - which covers the death of President John F. Kennedy, but I had to write this letter to inquire about something that's been bothering me.

Secret Service agent Kellerman said President Kennedy spoke after he was hit. According to Kellerman, President Kennedy exclaimed, "My God, I am hit!" I thought it odd that someone who had a bullet pass through or near his windpipe could say anything.

I wrote the enclosed letter to Gerald Posner asking him what he thought about my observation, and Mr. Posner courteously replied. Since the letters contains nothing personal, I've enclosed them. Posner thinks Kennedy's wound would have prevented him from speaking, and therefore agent Kellerman (who is now dead) was mistaken is saying that Kennedy spoke after he was shot. I think that's an odd way of looking at things. Frankly, I think Mr. Posner may be discarding sworn evidence by a reliable witness because it doesn't fit his view of what happened.

I've no compelling reason to doubt what Kellerman said under oath. I doubt that agent Kellerman was lying or reporting hallucinations. I think he heard Kennedy say those words.

I'd like your learned medical opinion: Was it possible for Kennedy to speak after receiving the throat wound?

If it was possible, then there is no need for further consideration of this matter. However, if It was not possible for Kennedy to speak after receiving the throat wound then ... THE SEQUENCE ABSOLUTELY MUST BE:

- (A) Kennedy was struck in the back by a shot fired from behind. round didn't exit.
- (B) Kennedy exclaimed, "My God, I am hit!"(C) Kennedy was struck in the throat by a shot fired from the front; the round didn't exit; Kennedy was struck in the head by one or more rounds fired from undetermined direction(s). (The throat wound almost certainly came before the head wound(s), but not necessarily.)

Please let me know if it was possible, in your medical opinion, for President Kennedy to speak, as agent Kellerman testified he did, after receiving the throat wound. I've enclosed a self-addressed envelope for your reply. Also, could you please describe the exact nature of the throat wound in layman's terms? Was the windpipe penetrated?

Sincerely

Im Mulha

March 8, 1994

Dear Mr. Posner:

According to Secret Service agent Roy Kellerman, President Kennedy said, "My God, I am it!" (page 50, Warren report). The President must have spoken these words just after, and in reaction to, the shot through his neck.

I've seen the Autopsy photographs of President Kennedy, and the exit wound in his throat is just below the adam's apple and slightly off to the right, perhaps half an inch off center. Surely the bullet either passed through the windpipe or caused severe damage to the right side of the President's windpipe.

It seems odd to me that the President could have spoken after such severe injury to his throat. Still, I'm no doctor, and I was wondering if you had spoken to any doctors about this matter. If so, could you let me know what they said?

I've enclosed a self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Sincerely Tom Chittum Dea Mr. Chithen -Thank you for your good not of March 8. Regarding your query, you are right in assuming the President could not speak after his throat woverd: Kellerman is wrong in hil recollection of JFK speaking- no me else in the car gove such textimy-Afthough he was a trained SS agent. the great exciterent and trawns of that day affected his recollection of events just as it did for many others -Hope this is help had -Showly Jane
