UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D. C.

6-13-40

Harold Weisberg,
313 K Street, N.W.,
Washington, D.C.

Sir (or Madam):

PARAGRAPHS NOT CHECKED DO NOT REFER TO YOUR CASE

In response to your letter of 6-6-40, you are informed as follows:

Your relative standing _____

Relative standing is subject to variation by the addition to the register of names of new eligibles with higher grades, by restoration to the register of those of eligibles previously not available, by the appointment or declination of those with higher ratings, by the granting of military preference after the register has been established, by the addition to the register of the names of disabled veterans who have qualified through quarterly reopened examinations, and by other changes.

In making certification to fill vacancies at places on or near the border line of another State, equal consideration will be given to eligibles within the adjoining State who reside within the vicinity of the place where the vacancy exists, if the establishment in which the vacancy exists serves both States. (Otherwise, preference in certification will be given eligibles who live in the State in which the vacancy exists.) This procedure may, of course, affect the relative standing as shown above.

Your prospects of certification _____

The Commission ordinarily has no knowledge of the occurrence of vacancies until officially requested to certify eligibles in filling them. A department may leave a position vacant or it may be filled through promotion, reinstatement, or transfer, or by certification from the reemployment list of persons furloughed or dropped because of reduction of force, or by certification from a competitive register. In certifying from eligible lists, the names of eligibles on the reemployment list take precedence over those on the competitive register. The number of vacancies that will be filled from the competitive register on which your name appears cannot, therefore, be predicted.

- _____ Your address has been changed to that shown on this letter.
- Your record has been amended to show the acceptable salary $3200; W.D. (prefer D.C.) locality.
- _____ Your name has been restored to—~~withdrawn from~~—the eligible register.
- Your eligibility has been suspended until Dec. 6, 1940 (suspension does not extend the period of eligibility).
- _____ Your name cannot be restored to—~~suspended from~~—the eligible register, without reexamination, for the reason that your eligibility has expired—will expire _____ (If you desire to compete in the next examination of this kind, notify the Commission stating title.)
