Dear Mr. Sokol,

Please excuse and try and understand the haste. I've undertaken ~~with~~ another rush project. I think you might guess what it is. So I'm in more than the usual rush, for this is in addition to what kept me too busy.

Sounds okay. But please try and check with the airlines to see when I might be having to leave and when I might get in. I'll want to fly back to Baltimore, New York or possibly Washington. Figure me for as much as you want that gives me time to get a plane either to New York, if I stop over there, or to Baltimore.

You can figure on running as late Friday night as you'd like. I can do it.

Happy to stay with you.

Have no pictures but will be getting some and will send;

Sincerely,

FREDERIC J. SOKOL

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Many thanks for reducing our offer to the flat fee of $800. And, of course, many more thanks for accepting my offer to visit the college.

I've arranged a tentative schedule and would like to know if you're amicable to it.

Friday Night- April 14- lecture- 7:30 pm
Friday Night- April 14- informal discussion and question and answer period at Pandora's Box (the weekly informal center of discussion at the college) 10:30 pm until whatever time you'd like to call it.

Saturday morn* extremely informal discussion with members of my fraternity and other interested students. (I've included this only because of your plans for a two day trip- since you'll be away for two days, it might be easier for you if we spread out your program instead instead of jamming all into the one day.) (Approx 10:00-11:30)

Since you have some business matters to take care of in New York City, I've arranged this tentative schedule so that you can attend to these either during daytime hours on Friday or after 1:00 pm on Saturday.

To find the isolated kingdom of Geneva, N.Y., site of this noble institution, one must fly from New York to either Syracuse or Rochester. This flight takes less than an hour. From either of these places, a one hour trip by auto brings one to Hobart and William Smith (our sister institution) Colleges. We will meet you at the airport if you'd like. You will be able to sleep at an apartment which I share with a few friends. We use the place only as an escape area (from the mad collegiate world). A bed is perennially vacated. If you do not agree to this plan, we will find you a room in the dorm.

I feel that we should start publicity sometime in early March. Please send me any pictures you'd like posted or reproduced in the school paper, and any further information you'd like publicized. I will take care of radio, TV, press contacts etc.

Please think over all I've said in this labyrinthic type letter. I'd appreciate your decision or decisions as soon as is feasible.

Yours truly,
Fred Sokol
