

Relet 3/2-thanks. Time of coming fine. On reservations, I'll remember that at your reservations people put you up at Legerstown. The two closest and fanciest are the Holiday Inn, where they can make reservations w/o cost through your local one, which has teletype connections with all other Holiday Inns, and the Red Horse Inn, which is across the road from it. Closer, older, cheaper but good is Masser's, which is closest of all to here, not that any is far. It is of individual cabins but all conveniences. Dandee Diner is up mountain, about same distance as Holiday Inn/Red Horse Inn, no phones in rooms but good, clean and cheapest of all. If you want Holiday Inn recommend immediate reservations because they have much Washington trade beginning soon and are much used by large corporations up and down highway, not just for local need. They run fairly full all the time. If you opt this recommend you pick exact first day and maybe one or two days more than you plan if you think there is a chance you may want to stay longer. No penalty for timely cancellation but much insurance from having longer reservation if there is any possibility of need. Also suggest you consider using metal transfer cases for shipping containers. I have them and we can work something out on cost. They stack like a file cabinet, are of heavier metal but do not have rollers on drawers. Best all, inc. the boys. HW 3/8/78
