Dear Paul,

I have heard of the ABC film special The Trial of Lee Harvey Oswald. My only interest in it is for record..

There is no predicting the future but there is the chance they can have $2,000,000 in the can and have to junk it.

They would deserve it.

I was told about it when I was in Dallas. I think they were to have begun shooting while I was there.

For an odd reason I'm both glad and sorry I was not able to get there. I did not want to go to be on TV. It means nothing to me personally and the situation is one in which unless it turns a right person on all the good publicity in the world means zero. This slight chance and Jim's belief that it might not be a bad idea to let people in the major media know there is a third, a responsible position, are why I did go.

The night I got home I had a sharp spasm in the more severely damaged leg, the left. I limped for part of the day and it passed off. Then about three nights later it happened again. This has not worn off completely. I limped for about three days. After about two days of this I wrote our medical service. They haven't responded yet.

Obvious if anything were to happen I'd not want to be a burden to others. I presume this would have happened wherever I was. The regret is that out there I might have found a good doctor.

I'm using my fanciest stationery. Once in a while Ldl rushes and makes an off-center copy. The other side of this relates to Ray's actually having been picked up by the Canadian cops on a jay walking charge and let go when he paid the fine.

After the King assassination, as I recall. But if before he was an escapee.

I guess the trip did tire me. I've been sleeping a little later since getting home.

But I still put in a long day, lately with records. Fantastic ones, too.

Thousands of them.

Aside from fighting for more and going over what I get there is little time for anything else.

Do not be concerned about me. I'm not really uncomfortable except from the uneasiness from not knowing and the frustration from the medical indifference.

We are in court on the King case on Thursday. This will be about a year after you were there.

I gather you are busy some weeks and busier other weeks.

Perhaps this also makes it better that my trip be delayed.

For the time I spent in Dallas by any measure it was a worthwhile trip. Because of all the time taken by the crazy Ray business it was exceptionally productive. Now I have to find uninterrupted time to draft affidavits.

Our best,
