style of pen

I wanted to write. I wondered if I could write, wondered if writing was the worst possible thing. Writing seemed to be freedom and a good thing. Just to practice typing was a good thing. Just to be doing something interesting was a good thing. Interesting question: what is a creative idea?

* analysis of this definition storm clouds roll away sprinkling of stars spread across the blackness of the melody of a violin of life-my very exhistance things you are to me

I love you I have a reason to live
I love you I have a world of things to give.
destiny plays the jestor
And with his cap of bells, and mocking tones
He says, "Your love is not to be. This I prophesy, I saw it in a dream, you will not have her, she is not for you.
Oh God who reigns in heaven
Tell me why you send your fool
To break my heart
But man is always foiled
By the workings of his heart
And whose to say, conquer or exist for nought?
I walked through the streets at night
And saw the moon in her flight
Cuddled among the darkening clouds
I felt the tiny drops of summer rain
And heard the thunder clap
And saw the lightning etched across the sky
I heard the talk of people in the tavern
And watched the sun in heaven rise
But never did my sorrow cease
The world is wide
And spins through space at a maddening pace
And there are many wonders on this earth A wise man told me once that the greatest of these was love.
And this I am denied
I cannot face the day
And I must run and hide.
