Dear Steve:

The situation with Harold Weisberg has gotten to the point that I get daily calls either from him or John Friedman, the Agent. At this point I must insist that you live up to your agreement with me in respect to legal fees and settle your differences with Weisberg in some other fashion. I would appreciate it if you would forward to me your client's check to the order of Dell for $2,391.35, representing 1/2 of legal fees paid by Dell to Bill Lucas.

Originally, I agreed to advance all fees to Bill Lucas as an accomodation to you and to your client upon our understanding that you would reimburse me for 1/2 of these fees if Harold Weisberg objected. At this point, I think it comes with ill grace for you to ignore my letters and requests.

Sincerely,

DELL PUBLISHING CO., INC.
