Dear Gilbert Atkinson,

Thanks for your note of the 29th and the enclosed Dell mailing. It is helpful.

Let me explain that a number of things are involved. One is performance under a contract in which they warrant they would treat these books no less favorably than any others they publish.

So, anything showing they have not readily filled orders, that they neither push nor offer the book for the term of the contract, etc., may be helpful.

Gary has sent me what you have given him. If there is anything else, no matter how seemingly inconsequential, I'd like to have it on the chance a use turns up. If it does and I do not have what you have, it can do me no good.

They are not nice or honest people. And they have screwed me.

Again, my thanks.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
