Dear Mr. Pritchard,   7/4/85

    This differes from what I sent you earlier for your FOIA committee in focus, form, to a degree content and because in refusing to pay the crooked judgement obtained I believe I prove by fraud I can be jailed. However, the evil precedent could be the end of FOIA for practical purposes, so I feel that despite my age, impaired health and other limitations, I must persist.

    If you do recall what I sent earlier, the jeopardy to FOIA and other lawyers has been eliminated on remand.

    Based on experience I have no reason to expect any attention to this, official mendacity has become that acceptable to the press. However, if you take the time to read the motion I'll enclose, I think you'll see that the new evidence I use in the Motion under Rule 60B leaves it without reasonable question that the FBI and DJ did perpetrate a fraud, did misrepresent and employed knowing and deliberate perjury. The supervisor in my case who swore to a number of material falsehoods, including that the withheld material did not exist, was simultaneously disclosing it to a friend from whom I obtained it.

    If the judge does not grant my motion, and he has never been other than an FBI rubber stamp, I've asserted that I have a constitutional right to a trial. I have no reason to believe that he uses the constitution I studied in school.

    However, if they have to come to Maryland to collect, then maybe it can get a little sticky for them because I am reasonably certain that this would require some kind of procceding and if you read what I enclose I think you'll agree that neither the judge nor the government will want that.

    This is not the usual situation because I am not a defendant. I'm the plaintiff. At least to now!

    The judge and FBI have been notified that I'm filing this motion. I'll mail this to you when my wife has retyped what I've written and I mail copies to the court and FBI counsel.

    I have, as it happen, until Bastille Day.

    If you know anyone who might be interested, I'll be glad to send copies.

                           Sincerely,
