prinkling of stars spread across the blackness of the . nelody of a violin me of life-my very exhistance things you are to me le I love you I have a reason to live use I love you I have a world of things to give. destiny plays the jestor 2. And with his cap of bells, and mocking tones He says, "Your love is not to be. This I prophesy, I saw it in a dream, you will not have her, she is not for you. Oh God who reighs in heaven Tell me why you send your fool To break my heart But man is always foiled By the workings of his heart And whose to say conquer or exhist for nought? I walked through the streets at night And saw the moon in her flight Cuddled amoung the darkening clouds I felt the tiny drops of summer rain And heard the thunder clap And saw the lightning etched across the sky I heard the talk of people in the tavern And watched the sun in heaven rise But never did my sorrow cease The world is wide And spins through space at a maddening pace And there are many wonders on this earth A wise man told me once that the greatest of these was love. And this I am denied I cannot face the day
