

Jim, in case the papers do not carry it, early this morning Westinghouse Broadcasting, which has a Washington news office, carried an item saying that the Mass. bar or courts have a case pending against F. Lee Bailey for the neglect of the interests of three clients in Penna. cases. Seems he argued appeals without filing pleadings that were required. This item says this is not the first such case, that Bailey has been disciplined in Mass. and that for this business he had been in Penna. HW 7/4/73
