White House Enemies: Or How We Made the Dean's List, introduction by Eugene McCarthy; drawings by Julio Fernandez; observation by Tom Wicker; afterword by Art Buchwald (Signet, $1). For a nonbook, this quickie has a lot to offer: a copy of the famous list and relevant memos; cartoons of the more cartoonable listees and photos of others; list games (match names with descriptions; find the names in a page of jumbled letters); indignant or comic comment from people on the list. Cartoonist Fernandez, whose work takes up most of the space, works here in a style reminiscent of David Levine (see illustration above).
