

Caulfield is a smart cop to whom other things are more important than his Treasury job. His testimony helps round out the dimensions of the paranoia of this demented administration. He also wanted to appear and to feel honest, I believe. So, he went into unnecessary detail. I always like that and in interviews just point people and let them talk. Fortunately, roll calls prevented interruptions, so nobody said the statement could just be printed in the record at that point when he spoke of his background. One part of it handled me. He was on the subversives squad, both Cubans and left. Now it happens that Ricardo Davis worked for that squad in New York at that time, and was in these Cuban groups and did finger the left for the cops so they could get lumped. He told me of this in detail. He also told me that it was the CIA that told him to break his camp up, not the FBI. With Davis at least as much as with the rest of those characters, truth can be an accident, but my recollection on these things is clear. He did say them. Another Dallas shadow? HW 5/22/73

Can you, without great effort, provide the date on which Tackwood says he was asked to be part of the creation of disturbances at the San Diego GOP convention? MY interest is in seeing if it coincides with the organization of Nixon's private spy gang. I think ~~WASSERMAN~~ dates this as 4/8/69. HW 5/23/73
