

If I enjoy working outside and it gives me a chance to think, I also find myself wishing I could be spending all my time on WC. This a.m. I dug up a bed for some gladioli we had gotten free with some strawberry plants. Good sweat, too, after which I spent more than two hours clipping and filing separately the stories of 5/11. One of the things I thought of I could not recall in full. I plan a musical-chairs treatment of Nixon's reorganization of his reorganization to show that it is paranoid, that he doesn't dare bring in anyone new, and to say a little about each one. In a sense those promoted are new, but I think not really. You once summed Colby up beautifully (inappropriate). I can't recall if it was at the time he was upped or, as I think, earlier. If it was when he became director, then I know the date and can find it easily. Story was dated 5/11. Now what I don't want you to do is take lots of time looking for this. If you can recall about when, that will give me a place to look in files that are chronological and can save much time. I'll do the checking. All I'm asking is the approximate date, if you can recall by what occasioned the comment...Of course, this treatment will also show the connections of his top people, how they always represent the same military-industrial interests. Also crooks. HW 6/2/73
