

Js, HR-throught the day, when I could stop or didnt forget when the hourly net news was on radio and during the morning when I clipped the paper and listened to the DC all-news radio, I was aghast that there were no restraining voices, nothing but exhalation over the deal that has little prospect. If it succeeds- and then lasts- it will have to have such cogar coating it as diplomacy and gold have never before blended. Of the cruel and inhuman Nixon punishment, this may be the worst, because he can back-jack Israel by withholding materiel, which they can get from no other external source. If he does, their chances of not getting wiped out in time are not good. So, not knowing whether as this thing unfolds I may want some notes on it, while it was fresh in mind I decided to take a few minutes for recording some ideas. My apologies for the errors, for I must return to the chapter I'm into...I think one dramatic new disclosure could have a chance of bringing us to the moment of truth: the repressive authority remains on the books, going back to the Civil War, I guess. Will our glorious leader call out the sroops? Stay tuned to any station. HW 10/22/73
