

Book World
9-15-74

Is there an honest man left in Washington?

What do you do if you have evidence that the new President of the United States has been less than truthful?

Do you pretend that it isn't so?

Do you make believe that President Ford is a refreshing new breeze sweeping the land? Or do you publish your findings and your evidence and let people know the less-than-flattering side of "Honest Jerry Ford"???

We've opted for honesty.

And so, we've dared to publish THE GERALD FORD LETTERS by Robert N. Winter-Berger.

Winter-Berger, as you may recall, is the former lobbyist whose "The Washington Pay-Off" predated Watergate. Not one of his charges has ever been refuted. Not a single one of the many threats of lawsuit has ever been carried out because every charge in that book is true!

Winter-Berger says that one of his closest allies and friends during his influence-peddling days was the man who is now President of the United States.

He also said that he made unrepaid cash "loans of about $15,000 to his pal, Jerry Ford.

The then about-to-become vice-president denied everything. He said that he scarcely knew Winter-Berger and only met with him two or three times. (It was two or three hundred times, according to the author.) He said he wrote not more than five or six letters to the lobbyist. This book produces more than thirty-six such letters. They are often intimate and reflect a close-working relationship.

You will not want to miss the new information, new charges and new documentation that appear in

THE GERALD FORD LETTERS

by Robert N. Winter-Berger

At bookshops everywhere.

$7.95

Published by Lyle Stuart, Inc.