Colson Role in Chappaquiddick Quiz

By Jack Anderson

The White House financed a trip to New England by Waterbugger E. Howard Hunt to investigate Sen. Edward Kennedy's role in the Chappaquiddick tragedy, according to Charles Colson, who ordered also spoke fully for the first sweep many a moneybag who the mission.

aide confessed his part in the the White House in 1972. Its vor in return. But there were snooping operation during a job, he said, was to coordinate Democrats, too, who engaged secret deposition taken May policy for surrogate candi-in this sort of exchange. 28 by lawyers for the Demo-dates who were carrying the cratic National Committee.

Colson told under oath how Hunt came to him in July, 1971, with a tip that a policeidentified only as "Demott," had confidential information on the case.

Because Kennedy was a potential presidential contender, gate ringleaders, the White House was eager to Hunt and Gordon Liddy, to ex-had written the measure and is being asked to contribute the learn more about the 1969 drowning of Mary Jo Kopechne during a drive with at Hunt's request and never Committee without bothering Kennedy.

Rehash

interview the ther to Massachusetts or F. Kennedy had conspired to thought view, Colson recalled.

'Attack Group'

time of his mysterious "Attack President Nixon's campaign The former White House Group," which worked out of and received a government fapolitical attack to the Demo-bill introduced by Sen. John crats.

> had advance knowledge of the writer of John Horne, a for-Watergate breakin. The most mer Sparkman aide who is he did, he said, was phone now a director of the billionder to arrange for the Water- Corp. Howard plain their intelligence plans. Sparkman had rushed learned the actual plans.

published material. The White once forged documents to shareholders.

Democrat Deal: The Water-In his deposition, Colson gate spotlight has caught in its

A defaced "m" in a typed Sparkman (D-Ala.), for in-Colson vigorously denied he stance, led us to the type-

We established that Horne But Colson insisted he did this through his Senate Banking to have it retyped. The bill On balance, Colson denied would allow Continental's bromore than he admitted. He kerage company to continue flatly contradicted press re-collecting fat brokerage fees Colson instructed Hunt to ports that he had recruited until 1975 from a mutual fund policeman men to pose as homosexuals in company also owned by Contiwhose information, said Colthe McGovern campaign. He nental. This would benefit the son, proved to be a rehash of also denied knowing Hunt had company at the expense of the House paid Hunt's air fare ei-|show the late President John| Until a few days ago, we Sparkman Rhode Island for the inter-assassinate the late South Vi-granted this legislative favor etnamese President Ngo Dinh because of his long friendship for Horne. But now we have learned that Continental executives funneled money into Sparkman's 1972 campaign.

In December 1971, C. Robert Strader, vice president of Continental's brokerage wrote his top aides in confidence: "In regard to the Senator Sparkman Campaign, would you be good enough to forward your check, made payable to the Sparkman Campaign Fund, to Mr. Reasoner immediately . . ." William Reasoner is president of the brokerage subsidiary.

Again in February 1972, campaign deputy Jeb Magru- dollar Continental Investment Strader made another pitch to harassed executives: "Everyone in the Home Office it cost of one or more $100 fundraising tickets based on their salary level . . . Forward your check to me made payable to the Senator John Sparkman Campaign,"

> Whatever the total, it was a good investment. Sparkman's bill will benefit Continental many times above the amount its executives raised.

© 1973, United Feature Syndicate