From his reading of his unembroidered statement, Gray comes through as a man without the intellect to ~~want~~ remember if he is hungry. He remembers almost nothing.

Says he destroyed Hunt files in home in Connecticut. Opened one. State cables, read one. Duplicated ~~files~~ of the Kennedy assn. in the Diem ass. Says in Nunberg he saw "duplicates" of this file.

Has a and he chews infrequently, moving wad around when he ponders.

Comes across in just reading what he wants to say as a real dum-dum why else would N appoint him? Not without feeling a sincerity just dumb.

Told ~~from~~ Watergate on when & where he destroyed Hunt's files, doesn't know why, he says. ~~end~~ ending 3:45. Read in Clay, emotion censored Exum: got statement late, want permission to read. Recess to 9:30

Shaken, humbled, ashamed
