

Lesar has Skolnick's Complaint in the D. Hunt matter. He says it says that in several earlier crashes involving people who were somehow involved in El Paso gas company cases there were faulty altimeters...Michele Clark was sitting next to D. Hunt. Had I been Michele and had it been possible, I would have, too. I doubt anyone really knows or could know unless both died strapped to seats. I have read other of Skolnick's Complaints. It is not possible to know where imagination begins and ends. But all is presented as unquestionable fact... im asked about the cyanide and seemed to imply that there was something amiss in there being traces of unspecified quantity found in the pilot. I didn't question him about anything or ask for specifics because it seemed clear he had talked to Bud from the way in which he said that D. Hunt had gotten edgy about her role as paymistress.
