

WTT 8/9/72

"The most circulated Xerox manuscript in town
since the Pentagon Papers." —N.Y. Times Magazine

"This new spy thriller by the ex-CIA agent and convicted Watergate burglar
... [is] a thoroughly professional,
fast-paced piece of work."

E. HOWARD HUNT'S
The Berlin Ending

$6.95

JUST OFF PRESS!
NOW AT YOUR BOOKSTORE!

"What sort of man is Howard Hunt?"

"What the CREEP [Committee to Re-Elect the President] conspirators sought to lay bare in Daniel Ellsberg, Howard Hunt unwittingly lays bare in himself. In THE BERLIN ENDING, there emerges a man with a keen, restless mind, a clever rogue with deep cynicism about human nature and a casual view of death. . . .

"We have here the very thing Hunt and Liddy were seeking in the bungled burglary of Dr. Lewis Fielding's psychiatric files—a profile of the inner man.

"THE BERLIN ENDING is tense, brutal, action-packed spy stuff. The narrative has a fine pace and the writing is vivid and intelligent. The small, sly details of espionage are all there. . . ."—HARRIET VAN HORNE in the New York Post

"Hunt is worth reading... because of what he consciously or unconsciously tells us about himself."—John Barkham Reviews

Publishers Weekly*

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS