

PARADE 3/3/74

Q. E. Howard Hunt, the White House Watergate planner—hasn't he become a rich man as a result of Watergate?—P.R., Syracuse, N.Y.

A. When Hunt's wife, Dorothy, was killed in a United Air Lines crash, Hunt became the beneficiary of $250,000 she had taken out in flight insurance. Publishers also reissued 17 of his novels in 1973 as well as two new books. Once regarded as a literary hack, Hunt has now achieved notoriety, and his future books will probably sell. Watergate has both ruined and made him.
