

Jim, I don't suggest or even believe that it is now worth the time to look in up in Readers' Guide, but I write this separate note to call your attention to Hunt's serious writing for specialized magazines. If you ever find someone who has the time to do this, it might be worth knowing about this writing. Not only the views but the subjects. And at some point, esp. if Readers' Guide includes New Guard and such, it would be worth doing this with the others, too. I don't think much if anything will show on Minderman. Caddy might be. I don't know if Group Research clips the so-called respectable right-wing press. And I don't think these would be too careless, although on the impeachment moves they may have enlisted the help of the Hargises and the Gerald L.K. Smith's. I have some of Smith's magazines for that period, in dead storage. Someone actually gave me a subscription. I told you I have a fat Hargis file. HW 12/7/73
