

... sorted my WG files from chronological it was to suit them to planned writing. Thus the files under indictments are actually under "Cover-Up" and the most recent comments I have made on yesterday's does not persuade me that my opinion of the first or any subsequent indictments was invalid.

I should have noted the remarkable coincidence, that a U.S. Attorney in the Mitchell-Stans case was so unnecessary and so excessive a comment in the presence of the jury when he had to know that if it did not cause a mistrial it laid a basis for appeal.
