

Agent Oswald-Hudkins-Jaworski-Martin Waldron

HW 11/6/73

Martin Waldron called me this morning about a 10-anniv. roundup. He said he was in Miami working on Cuban-^{ix} aspects of the Watergate. We started rambling early, into many things, and never did finish the purpose of his call.

When he started talking about Jake Floyd and George Parr and the pistoleros, and the assassination of Parr's son by Mexican traced to a team of 8-10 at a Clint Murcheson rank in Texas, I asked if I could tape, he agreed, and beginning there I did tape, but I did not notice immediately when side 1 ended.

He is to come up for a couple of days.

He does not recall where he heard the story, but he was told that it is Leon Jaworski who had Lonnie Hudkins fired after the attention to his story. He has never discussed this with Lonnie. He is firm and clear in the recollection that Lonnie was fired over the story and that it is Jaworski who caused it.

If this is true, it is possible that it occurred after Jaworski was special counsel to the Texas Court of Inquiry.
