NYTimes - MAR 12 1974

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The United States intends to continue reducing the number of its military personnel on Taiwan, the Chinese Nationalist stronghold, the State Department said today. A department spokesman, John H. Trattner, refused to say whether President Ford had told China's leaders of this intent during his visit to Peking in December.

He said, however, that "we expect to continue the process of reducing our troop levels on Taiwan consistent with the principles established in the Shanghai Communiqué issued at the end of former President Richard M. Nixon's first visit to China in February 1972.

Mr. Trattner was responding to questions on a report by a Boston Globe correspondent, William Beecher, that said Mr. Ford had given a secret pledge in Peking last December to reduce remaining American troops on Taiwan approximately 50 percent over the next year.

Plan Unknown in Taipei

Special to The New York Times

TAIPEI, Taiwan, March 11—America and Chinese Nation-

Gen. Li Chang-hao, spokesman for the Defense Ministry in Taiwan, said that while his Government had not been informed of a planned cut in manpower, such a development would not be taken as a matter of great concern here.

"I don't think it makes much difference whether there are 1,000, 2,000 or 3,000 American military men here," he said "since none of the units mentioned here is a combat force."
