

FROM STAN PRIMMER

Gar

25 Feb 1967

... from the article by Haynes Johnson in the Feb. 26, 1967 issue of the New York Times. (The version of the article in the Oakland Tribune version of the paper has many other stylistic and trivial differences.)

... The Warren Commission was fully aware of his meeting, but his name does not appear in the report.

... (Cubans) in St. Tammany Parish (County)

... got up from her chair, and once, when she was asked for another statement, she said "I'm so nervous I can't even talk about Jack."

... Pigs landed in New Orleans in April 1961, and the exchange office of New Orleans.

... "Operation of Cuba" and, that summer, after he was arrested, a search of his apartment here turned up numerous World War I rifles and a quantity of ammunition. ... involved in the morals case, said at the time ... on several occasions.

... the official investigation held that he was not ...

... of a quick-buck artist, anxious for money, ... means of support...

... in a note found in his apartment ... this life for me is a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it ... that is loathsome."

... the days immediately after the ... in Miami, was fragmented.

... in New Orleans was signaled by the head of ... -- the organization created by the CIA-- Sergio

... a Columbia University Law Graduate and ... had been boasting in speeches throughout New Orleans that ... "within six months."

... of Pigs, Arcacha and other Cubans participated in forming a ... organization, designed to raise funds for the Cuban effort ... area.

... by a number of prominent private citizens ... Crisade to Free Cuba began at the end of November 1961 ... because of factional and ...

... then is said to have left New Orleans for Miami. He is now living ... among the group that met in Banister's office before and after

... investigators reportedly have been to Dallas and talked to other ... not as far as is known, to Arcacha -- although they are said to ... lives.